ENEMY GROUND ATTACK STALLED

Allied Air Units Play Big Part In Halting Jap
Drive On Moresby

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
GEN. MACARTHUR'S
HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Sept. 12.—Allied bombers roared into the battle of New Guinea today, probably damaged another and wrought widespread destruction on enemy ground installations while Australian troops blocked the Nip-ponese push toward Port Moresby.

The heavy bombers, a formation of American Flying Fortresses and Australian Hudsons, lashed out at the Jap warships as they prowled past Normanby Island, off the east coast of New Guinea.

Score Direct Hit Scoring a direct hit on one of the destroyers, the planes left in their wake a scene of utter demolition and confusion.

As the battered vessel sank by the stern, officers and crew slashed into the water and, in some cases, clung to life rafts that the Allied fliers saw floating over the scene.

The Allied aircraft all returned safely from this foray as did a group of medium-size bombers that blast-

PA NEW OBSERVES

Something of a new record was made in New Castle high school football last night when Roussos kicked five goals after touchdown in succession. It is a long time since a kicker in New Castle has duplicated this feat. Roussos went out of the game with a perfect record, making every kick that he attempted.

Suggestion is sent to Pa New by William Jones, of East Long avenue, that iron gratings that are used all over the city be picked up and used for scrap metal. Wood gratings could be used instead, he says.

There was quite a soupy fog in this area early this morning. Pa
New is informed by persons who were out on the highways.

Construction of the by-pass route through the city from Jefferson street to Butler avenue at East Washington street, as authorized by the State Highway Department, will provide a long-needed improvement in this city. While traffic is not as heavy as some months ago, the new route will allow heavy through traffic to be detoured off Washington street.

Another Conference On Anti-Inflation Legislation Program

By WILLIAM L. UMSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—As further Republican support swung to President Roosevelt's anti-inflation program, congressional leaders today held another conference in an attempt to break the deadlock over legislation demanded by the chief executive.

Democratic Senate Leader Barkley disclosed that the Senate and House conferees will meet in an effort to draw up measures for approval by Congress before October 1—the deadline set by the president.
Pledge Support
Meanwhile, Sen. Tobey (R., N. H.), ranking Republican on the Senate banking committee, pledged whole-hearted cooperation in speeding enactment of a bill giving Mr.
Roosevelt power to control the cost of living.

"The situation demands action and we should dispose of the legislation by October 1 if we can,"
said Tobey.

"I think this is a time when we have got to have understanding that the whole is greater than any part, a time when a great crisis

Verbal 'Blitz' From Hitler

Threatens To Repay Britain
For Mass Raids Made On German Cities

BRITAIN READY
FOR ANY ATTACKS
By J. D. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)
Adolf Hitler launched a verbal "blitz" against case-hardened London today with a threat of gigantic reprisals for the British and American air attacks which have left scores of German cities a mass of topsy-turvy ruins.

While his troops were flung out of the streets of Stalingrad and his generals at captured Novorossiysk counted casualties in astronomical figures, the fuhrer's propaganda bureau warned the British capital that its respite from massive air raids must soon come to an end.
For this the British are prepared.
Earlier this week, a government official told the people of London that the Luftwaffe would be back in force as the nights grow longer with the approach of winter. Air raid shel-

Second Group From City Goes To Erie Today

Local Board Two Of City
Sends Another Delegation
For Final Examination

Local Board No. 2, of the City of New Castle, completed its quota for September in the Selective Service draft, when another large group went to the Erie Induction Station for the final examinations prior to entering the service.

The men will return this evening, and those successful in passing, will receive their automatic two-week furlough before leaving to begin their training at camp.
An unusual incident was reported.
One man who had not been summoned, saw so many of his friends leaving, that he borrowed another man's papers and tried to work his way into the train, but was discovered and told to report to his own draft board, if he wished to enlist ahead of his time.

Germany Seeks To Force Vichy Break With U. S.

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 12.—Germany has brought new pressure upon Vichy France to break diplomatic relations with the United States because America approved the British attack on Madagascar, Exchange Telegraph reported today from Zurich.

The Nazi foreign office and press,
the Zurich report said, screamed that America's quiet cooperation with Great Britain in the incident is "intolerable."

Germany has virtually demanded that Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of state, sever connections with America, according to the report.

The foreign office as well as newspapers are using the Madagascar invasion as a "lever" to alienate America and France, the story continued.

Willkie Visits In Jerusalem

(International News Service)
JERUSALEM, Sept. 12.—Wendell Willkie, President Roosevelt's special envoy visiting Jerusalem today, urged the people of the middle east
"to cooperate with the Allied war effort."

"It is vital to you yourselves," Willkie explained, "because if Nazism prevails in this region you will suffer most and you know why..."
Willkie said that when he returns home, he will not "pull punches on my recommendations once I reach conclusions as a result of my trip."

The former Republican nominee said, regarding his recent visit to Turkey, that "no invader will tread on Turkish soil."
It was said unofficially that Willkie will reach Moscow "early next week, but before he goes there he probably will spend a few days in Kubyshev."

WAFS Join WAACS, Waves

The Army's WAACS and the Navy's WAVES now have some new sisters-in-arms, the WAFS, members of the Women's Auxiliary Ferrying Squadron, who have been organized to fly new fighting planes to battlefronts. Chief of the WAFS is Mrs. Nancy Harkness Love of Boston, shown, left above, as she was congratulated by Maj. Gen. Harold L.
George, chief of the Air Transport command.

British Forces Continue Drive Into Madagascar

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Sept. 12.—British forces that captured three of Madagascar's west coast ports have made "considerable" progress in their drive inland, one column advancing 130 miles toward the island capital at Tananarive, a communiqué from East African headquarters revealed today.

Opposition from the Vichy French troops in the vast island in the Indian ocean has been slight, and there were no casualties during the last 24 hours, according to the communiqué.

Several columns are poking their way from vital Mozambique channel toward interior cities in their campaign to bring strategically-situated Madagascar under full United Nations control, as a measure towards safeguarding a vital allied supply route.

"Little Opposition"
One of them, pushing eastward from conquered Morondava already has reached the vicinity of Mahabo, the communiqué disclosed, "where

FORD MAKES SPEECH OF TEN WORDS TODAY

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Sept. 12.—Henry Ford made an almost unprecedented public address today, stepping to the microphone of a public address system and uttering 10 words to thousands of Willow Run bomber plant workers gathered to listen to Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

The famed motor magnate whose Ford Motor company constructed the huge bomber plant, told his amazed employees:

"I can't talk but I do what I can do."

There was a tremendous ovation which delayed the program marking Patterson's visit to the plant.

Report American Plane Wreckage Found In Spain

(International News Service)
MADRID, Sept. 12.—An investigation was reported underway today in the crash of a bomb-loaded American airplane, the wreckage of which was found on a Spanish farm between Tarifa and Algeiras, near Gibraltar.

Four airmen were killed in the crash, and their unidentified bodies were brought to Algeiras.

The aircraft, said to have been one of the American flying fortresses that recently arrived at Gibraltar, was believed to have gone down in a storm.

Ban Christmas Presents From Great Britain

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 12.—If you have friends in England today, don't expect a Christmas present from them this year.

The government announced a ban on shipment of presents abroad except to children evacuated overseas.

Tobruk Again Bomb Blasted

Allied Bombers Make New Attack Upon Axis Base
Of Tobruk

BATTLE FOR SUPPLY LINES IN DESERT

By W. P. SAPHIRE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CAIRO, Sept. 12.—The Middle East campaign settled down to a battle for supply lines today as Allied bombers launched a new attack at the Axis base of Tobruk.
Behind the hull in hostility on the Egyptian desert, both Allied and Axis forces sought to reinforce for further combat, but the Allies, especially, rained a series of devastating blows to thwart reorganization of the battered German-Italian divisions.

Smash Axis Bases

In a follow-up to previous assaults on the shattered port of Tobruk, heavy and medium bombers of the Australian Air Force smashed Axis supply bases there and struck at other undisclosed targets nearby.
British torpedo planes, meanwhile, scored a direct hit on an Axis supply vessel, steaming off Derna.

The ship later was reported sinking with its decks already awash.
The ship caught afire after the bomb blast caused a terrific explosion.

(The Italian radio, in a report heard at Cairo, claimed that Axis bombers raided the Allied air field at Maccaba.)
While the aerial bombardment of Tobruk and other points was in progress, the Allied desert forces had time to reinforce and further strengthen their units.

It was reliably but unofficially stated that the British-American armored divisions and air patrol now is more powerful than before Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel drew them into battle to halt the Axis offensive aimed at Suez.

Miss America To Be Crowned

(International News Service)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12.—
"Miss America of 1942" will be crowned tonight in the Atlantic City beauty pageant.

Eight beauties, survivors of a series of elimination contests will be considered for the "big award."
Ordinarily there would be nine contestants remaining, but Miss Texas, shapely Jo-Carroll Dennison, of Tyler, Texas, who on Thursday won the talent award, repeated last night when Judges decided she was the most comely of ten appearing in bathing suits.

Another winner was "Miss Cincinnati," 18-year-old Barbara Patterson, of Westwood, Ohio, who, despite a toe infection danced her way to the talent prize.

As usual, the ocean-front theatre in which the judging took place was jammed with soldiers who are quartered at the resort city and the defeated contestants may at least take back with them the ringing applause and hearty vocal approval given their appearances by the servicemen.

EIGHT ARRESTED FOR FAILURE TO BE REGISTERED

(International News Service)
HALLSTED, Pa., Sept. 12.—
Eight laborers at a railroad camp in Hallstead were under arrest today on charges of having failed to register for the draft, as an outgrowth of an investigation into the death of a fellow worker.

Government agents made the arrests upon information furnished by Susquehanna county authorities, who are probing the death of Joseph Clark, of New York, on Tuesday. Clark was found dead with a broken skull.

Soviet Troops Battle Furiously To Check Stalingrad Advance

Moscow Says Nazi Invaders Are Hurling Back After Reaching City

Germans Are Repelled In Terrific Street Fighting
Says Report

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 12.—The defenders of embattled Stalingrad hurled the Nazi invaders from the very streets of the city today after some enemy troops had penetrated the bristling defenses of the Volga industrial center, dispatches from the blazing battlefront said this afternoon.

The Germans were repelled in furious street fighting by Soviet troops who then reformed their defense lines outside the city, these dispatches related.

Beat Back Attacks

Later wave after wave of German tanks attempted to wrest an important height west of the city from the Russians, who methodically beat off each attack.

Stalingrad's position, however, remained exceedingly perilous as Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock employed more than a half million men in furious frontal attacks coupled

Shorts And Slacks Barred On Campus

(International News Service)
TOLEDO, O., Sept. 12.—War or no war, coeds at the University of Toledo cannot wear shorts or slacks on the campus except on the athletic field and in the gymnasium.

Katherine Easley, dean of women, said today that regardless of the new wartime slack fad, the coeds must be dressed in strictly feminine attire on the campus and in classrooms.

WAR BULLETINS

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 12.—The Italian army has launched a full-fledged offensive against raiding Yugoslav air patriots, asserted that Great Britain should "swallow its pride in view of the tremendous issues involved" and ask the President of the United States to help his Majesty's government reach an agreement with Italy.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The London radio reported today that German air superiority at Stalingrad "is more marked than ever."
"Front line reports," according to BBC, "speak of masses of Messer-schmitts and dive-bombers operating all the time over the battle area."

LONDON, Sept. 12.—President Roosevelt should be invited to arbitrate the Indian question, Lord Strabolgi, Laborite member of the House of Lords, suggested today in a London speech.

Lord Strabolgi, who is known as a Laborite critic of the Churchill administration, asserted that Great Britain should "swallow its pride in view of the tremendous issues involved" and ask the President of the United States to help his Majesty's government reach an agreement with Italy.

ROME, Sept. 12.—(By Official Italian Wireless).—The Italian high command said today that artillery fighting on the Egyptian battlefield had been intensified during the past 24 hours.

The Italian also claimed that four United Nations fighter planes were shot down in aerial combat over the desert, and said 170 British tanks and armored vehicles were destroyed during the first 10 days of September.

DETROIT, Sept. 12.—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson today promised that four-motored
B-24 bombers produced at Henry Ford's Willow Run plant will soon begin blasting Tokyo and Berlin.

Speaking at the dedication ceremonies for the new Willow Run road system, Patterson said that the plant is "a very practical symbol of America's determination to produce what is needed to crush the enemy."

Arthur Mometer

I can't believe what I really saw,
they can't be that good it seems,
and maybe that score that I saw them make was just a September dream. But they piled it up as they ran the plays and they skirted the ends for runs, if that was a dream it was surely sweet, for the team is going great guns. But I still insist that they're not that good,
for they played like a veteran crew, but there's the score and there's the game and what are you going to do. They look like winners from what I saw, if they're good as their last evening's play, but we'll find out in a week or two, it's seventy two today.

Eight Dead As Plane Hits Factory

Flaming Plane Lands On Plant

Death Toll Rises Among Workmen In Accident At Buffalo, N. Y.

PLANE TAKES FIRE; PILOT MAKES JUMP

(International News Service) BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 12.—The death toll rose to eight today as authorities investigated the crash of a flaming plane into one of the buildings of the Curtiss-Wright airplane plant here late yesterday.

Two workmen were killed outright when the burning craft crashed through the roof of the building. Six others died of injuries during the night. A dozen of the forty others held at hospitals were placed on the danger list.

Identity of the dead could not be determined immediately. The tragedy occurred when a plane, piloted by a lieutenant, crashed into one of the buildings of the Curtiss-Wright airplane plant here late yesterday.

Purnell made every effort to land the plane but flames spread so rapidly that soon he was enveloped in fire and was forced to chute to safety.

Plane Crashes Thru Roof The pilotless aircraft wheeled crazily in the air and then went into a dive, and crashed through the roof of one of the buildings. Debris was scattered over a wide area.

Fleets of ambulances, disaster units and local first aid automobiles responded and six hospitals in the vicinity of the plant were filled with patients within a short time.

Two eye-witnesses who saw the plane before it crashed related that it was flying at a high altitude when smoke began pouring from it.

Purnell apparently put the plane into a steep slide, according to the observers, but the smoke pouring from the diving ship grew in volume and he finally was forced to jump.

Officials at the plant said that the pilot was a veteran with 3,000 hours in the air to his credit. He began flying in Philadelphia at the age of thirteen and has been at it ever since. In recent years he founded the Montgomery, Ala., School of Aeronautics and was an instructor at the Mississippi Institute of Aeronautics at Jackson, before joining Curtiss.

Despite the large number of persons injured, Curtiss officials said that damage to the plant was slight and that production there would not be seriously impeded.

SHOW SPEED ON RUBBER PROGRAM

Association approved the Baruch report—which is the basis of the President's program—as a "realistic document." It confirms the contention that maintenance of the country's 27,000,000 passenger automobiles is necessary to prevent a breakdown in the war effort and civilian economy, declared Thomas P. Henry, Detroit, A.A. president.

How soon the nationwide rationing of gasoline would become an actuality remained uncertain. Although the President said the rubber conservation step rightly should be known as mileage rather than gasoline rationing, the latter was clearly specified as "the only way of saving rubber" in the report of the Baruch investigating committee.

The President's speed of action in setting into operation the recommendations of the three-man committee matched the committee's own pace, but came as a surprise to the Capital.

War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson, to whom all rubber agencies and their new administrator will be responsible, was expected to announce the choice of the rubber chief. Mr. Roosevelt said that he and Nelson had conferred and would agree on the man.

ALLIED BOMBERS SINK DESTROYER AT NEW GUINEA

ed a Japanese airdrome in the Buna area.

Enemy ground forces, meanwhile, were held at bay, according to the latest bulletin issued by General MacArthur, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the southwest Pacific.

Jap Drive Stalemated

Japan's overland drive toward Port Moresby apparently has reached the temporary status of a stalemate. An official spokesman revealed that Allied forces have dug in for a defense of this important base at the eastern tip of New Guinea.

Renewed action by the ground forces may be expected within the next few days, the spokesman predicted.

General MacArthur's communiqué said merely that the enemy had made further advances in the area of the strategic Owen Stanley mountain range, and described the situation there as "static."

Emphasis of the communiqué was placed on the support that Allied air units have given the ground forces.

All bombs that were dropped in the two heavy raids over the Buna area hit their target, it was reported.

In this assault, the medium-sized bombers destroyed three of the enemy's grounded aircraft and a number of trucks parked about the airdrome. Several fires were started, the fliers noted, as they winged their way safely away following the second attack.

The communiqué pointed out that the Japanese filled the sky with heavy anti-aircraft fire, but that the Allied planes did not encounter any interceptor opposition.

Medium bombers also struck at Teon Island, situated northeast of Timor, to attack a small enemy vessel and buildings on the island. Results were not observed, according to the communiqué.

Military observers here regarded the lack of enemy interceptor planes at Buna as indicative of the Japanese air power in New Guinea. The Allies apparently control the skies here now.

PLACE JAP SEA LOSSES AT 364

picture of damage to Japanese seapower was made possible by a recent recapitulation from MacArthur's headquarters which stated that American and United Nations airmen in the southwest Pacific destroyed or damaged at least 68 enemy ships of all kinds.

While the War Department has issued no estimate of Japanese losses since MacArthur took over command in Australia, communications on early phases of the Pacific conflict credited the Army Air Forces with at least 50 enemy ships destroyed or damaged in the Philippines and the East Indies.

A summary of navy communications lists 129 combatant vessels and 118 enemy non-combatant vessels as sunk or damaged by naval forces since the start of the war against a loss of 49 U. S. naval vessels sunk to date by enemy action, to prevent capture, or by accidents at sea.

Seven Aircraft Carriers Sunk Most important, the grand score shows one Japanese battleship and seven aircraft carriers sunk and six battleships and six aircraft carriers damaged by U. S. naval and army air forces.

Next in importance so far as sea power is concerned is the score against Japanese cruisers; 14 sunk and 36 damaged. The Japanese have used their cruiser strength recklessly in efforts to smash American sea power and to gain invasion objectives.

Naval men warn that this does not mean the Japanese navy has been dealt a crippling blow, but they point out that losses to date apparently are responsible for the fact that the enemy has made no sea attack in force since the American victory at Midway.

The U. S. capture of enemy bases in the Solomons was due apparently to the fact that the Japanese either were unable to muster a great sea fleet to challenge American and United Nations forces or to the fact that the enemy was unwilling to risk its remaining sea strength at that time.

Further Japanese thrusts are anticipated in the Pacific for domination of sea routes and vital bases, but war analysts contend that within the next few months the United States should have definite sea superiority on the basis of present shipbuilding schedules.

CONFERENCE ON ANTI-INFLATION LEGISLATION HELD

confronts us and we must think further than in normal times."

Tobey indicated that he would demand control of wages as well as farm prices by saying "it is imperative that we have equality of sacrifice."

Must Be Coupled Senate leaders declared that farm prices and wages must be coupled in the same bill and stubbornly rejected the proposal of Speaker Rayburn that a "blank check" authorization be given the president to deal with inflation as he thinks best.

Mr. Roosevelt sent word to newspaper men through congressional leaders that he "is not particular" about the form of the bill. It was reported authoritatively, however, that the president insisted upon broad and flexible power.

The congressional leaders, including Barkley, Rayburn, Sen. Brown (D., Mich.), and Chairman Steagall (D., Ala.), of the House banking committee, went to Mr. Roosevelt late yesterday after failing to agree on a bill.

The group emerged from the White House conference still holding different viewpoints, and planned a final effort to agree today so that the legislation can be speeded in committee next week.

The enactment of a simple resolution giving the president authority to deal with farm prices and wages as he sees fit apparently had been discarded.

There is every indication that Britain will welcome a reappearance of Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's air force even though the unenvied throb of Messerschmitts and Heinkels will herald new death and destruction throughout the British Isles.

For months the R.A.F. keyed to an unprecedented fighting pitch and heavily backed by the United States Army Air Forces in Europe, has been trying to lure the Luftwaffe into a major combat partly to relieve the pressure on Russia and partly to destroy it.

operations are continuing successfully.

Other British troops advancing from Majunga, have reached the great bridge over the swiftly-flowing Betsiboka river, 130 miles from their starting point, in their push toward Tananarive, Madagascar's capital situated in the east central section of the island.

Throughout Friday, other British troops advancing southward down the west coast from the strong British-held base of Diego Suarez. At times the southern drive was halted as the British encountered bridges destroyed by retreating French forces, but by evening they were within 20 miles of Amboina.

"Our patrols encountered machine-gun fire at one point, but there were no casualties during the day," the communiqué said.

During the day, the British occupied Vohemar on the northeast coast without opposition.

American Repair Bases In Eritrea Doing Great Job

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Sept. 12.—The American repair base in Eritrea is doing a repair job rivaling that of complete factories in the United States, Maj. Gen. Russell Maxwell, head of the U. S. military mission in the middle east, declared today on his return from an Eritrean trip.

"Many of our projects are operating ahead of schedule," Maxwell said.

The repair workshops in particular are performing a great job, virtually approximating manufacturing facilities. They are making major repairs that couldn't be performed anywhere else but in the actual factory where the articles were originally made."

Wherever possible, Maxwell said, British installations and facilities are used in order to prevent duplication. Where the United States is developing its own services, wholly American personnel is used.

Maxwell revealed that American nurses now are serving in Eritrea.

SOVIET TROOPS BATTLE FURIOUSLY TO CHECK ADVANCE

with savage onslaughts on the southwest approaches of the city.

Spearmen of Nazi hordes, Von Bock's three huge tank herds and division after division of infantry against the heroic Russian troops under orders to fight to the last man.

Heavy fighting also continued. The Soviet noonday communiqué revealed, in the Sinyavina area near Volkov far to the north near Lake Ladoga, and at the extreme southern end of the front at Mordok only 60 miles from the Grozny Caucasus oil fields.

Savage Battle The Russian high command told of a savage battle being fought in the outskirts of a large suburban town near Stalingrad, but did not identify it.

(Exchange Telegraph reported that the Nazis had begun "terror bombing" of Stalingrad, and added that residential districts were not spared.)

The Caucasian mountain battlefields are covered with the first winter snow—according to an exchange telegraph report from Moscow.

In the Mordok area, Exchange reported, Russian artillery pounded Nazi bridgeheads on the Terek River, and began a slow, snail-paced movement designed to cut off supplies from the German panzer division operating there.

"The Germans were forced to use their tanks as stationary forts. Exchange said."

Regain Several Points The might of the Nazi war machine was repulsed, and in Russian counter attacks earlier, the Soviets regained several points near Stalingrad.

Waves after waves of German tanks reeled backward from the bolstered Red line suffering enormous losses in men and material.

West and southwest of the important Volga River industrial city, the Russian warriors stood unshaken, even unfazed by the news that the strategic Black Sea port city of Novorossiisk at last had fallen into the enemy's hands.

The Russian communiqué disclosed that Soviet troops had evacuated Novorossiisk "after fierce fighting for several days," but it went on to reveal that the Nazi assault on Stalingrad had been repelled.

Attacks were checked on the flat, table lands west of the city as in the hilly region to the southwest, according to the communiqué.

One Russian counter-attack southwest of Stalingrad struck the Nazi legions with such force that they were forced to fall back to their initial positions. The Germans fled leaving 200 of their fallen comrades on the field, the Russians reported.

BOMBS ARE HURTING

PROBABLY the most convincing authentication of the damage being done to Germany and its satellites by United Nations bombing is the wholehearted manner in which Russia has joined the campaign to keep the war industry cities of the reich jarred, frightened and shattered with air bombs.

In times of increasing urgency the Russians began suggesting a second front to the British in 1941. The British obviously were not in position to open a large scale invasion of Europe at that time and they responded with air raids on Germany that mounted in scope and intensity with the passing of the weeks.

The Russians had not indicated they were satisfied, even when the British stepped up their raids by employing a thousand or more bombers on some of the important industrial cities of the reich. With growing American participation, these raids now constitute a ceaseless hammering.

Apparently the Russians have not become impressed and are adding their own bomber fleets to those based in Britain. They have assigned to themselves the strategic cities in the eastern reaches of Hitler's domain while Britain and America continue to harass those of the western and central regions.

Russia, Britain and America seem to have agreed that the dropping of bombs on Nazi industries and transportation systems by day and by night is hurting the enemy badly. The collaboration of all three nations in the grand aerial project hints strongly at the contribution this attack is making toward victory.

MODERN RANGERS

The name "rangers" is apt for the American version of the Commandos. In a war that features use of the most ultra-modern instruments of death and destruction, we have been driven back to the methods of stealth and man-to-man combat in which Rogers Rangers outdid the very Indians from whom they derived their methodology.

The services of Robert Rogers' backwoods militiamen were invaluable to the Anglo-Americans during the Seven Years war against the French in North America. They accomplished feats which no regular troops, however skilled and courageous, could have achieved. That the modern Rangers will do with modern enemies.

BOOM IN OYSTERS

The principle of competition never can be eradicated in America. Although restricted in a thousand directions, it always finds an outlet. A totalitarian economy will never work in the United States.

A current instance is a spectacular oyster boom which set in on September 1 and is now in full swing. There has been an unusually abundant oyster crop and the oysters are of exceptional quality. The oyster fisheries are short of men shuckers and women are being recruited. On the first day of the month one firm in Oyster Bay, Long Island shipped 200,000 oysters. Orders are pouring in from all parts of the country, and on Maurice River Cove in New Jersey figures are surpassing the last year's record of 1,000,000 gallons of opened oysters and 500,000 bushels of unopened oysters.

There is no concealment by the oyster men of the fact that the bivalve boom is directly traceable to the threatened meat shortage. The restaurants in New York are pressing their patrons to go in for oysters and conserve the meat supplies. A bulletin in a large establishment urges its patrons to order oysters thus: "While oysters are good and good for you too many people have been neglecting them in the past."

For the duration of the war at least, the neglect seems to have ceased.

A LESSON IN "PUBLICITY"

Two Army officers have been severely punished for giving to the press a fake story, with pictures, purporting to expose ground markers placed by fifth columnists as guides to enemy planes.

It is a bitter lesson to the offenders, whose fault probably was founded in nothing worse than the desire for publicity which inhabits so many persons in official life. But it is a lesson that will be plain to those in the armed forces who are intrusted with giving out the news.

The press agent had his day in the Army and the Navy. Methods akin to those of Dexter Fellows were perhaps needed in the years of peace when enlistments lagged and the attractions of the services had to be played up. Pearl Harbor changed all that. The public wants only the truth and it would gladly take more of that than it has been getting.

A person who has been a press agent in private life is likely to carry his notions into government service—get into print somehow and somewhere. The result is often ridiculous, although usually not as harmful as the ground-marker hoax. The mails are laden with mimeographed "stories," the telegraph wires burdened with "big ideas" which are patiently read—and as patiently thrown away—in newspaper offices. The number of publicity men, public relations experts or plain press agents in our great Federal bureaucracy is reckoned at 30,000 at least, 29,000 of whom would never be missed. How many of them are mere clogs in overcrowded Washington, how many ought to be in uniform, we cannot guess. Nor are they likely to let us, although that would be a really useful publicity job.

Military weddings will lead to an epidemic of divorces, it is predicted. War has its victims no less than peace.

"Nazis ask aid of French to offset U. S. role in war." This would be quite a feat if the Quisling frogs could do it.

At last reports the birds were still singing, but Petrillo will probably attempt to do something about this.

Hitler is calling for more old clothes for his soldiers in Russia next winter. Apparently he fears his cannon fodder is going to be converted into frozen wolf bait again.

Australia is rationing sugar at the rate of one pound weekly per person. What an Australian has that an American hasn't got is a half pound of sugar weekly.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SMOKING BY CHILDREN A PROBLEM

I smoke. A pipeful lasts for about one column. I often wish I didn't. It costs money. It's a dirty habit, and to some persons one's smoking is offensive. Life insurance advise those they insure not to smoke, giving this advice in terms of dollars and cents to their firms. Medical journals don't carry advertisements of tobacco.

It was the quiet, loving influence of my mother, I think, that kept me from smoking in my childhood and teens. Of course, smoking was not so common a practice among teen age youngsters in those days as now. The youth who escapes smoking in his or her teens today must have been powerfully influenced by some person or persons.

Health authorities agree that smoking is most harmful during the child's growth, and athletes who observe the rules of training don't smoke. Indeed, sports have generally had good effect in keeping some youths from smoking.

Religious appeals also are responsible for a certain percentage of non-smoking youths and adults. Though we must admire those persons who because of religious teachings or obligations avoid tobacco and the like, yet, by and large, these influences do not seem to be very great.

Health Appeal

Also we must admit that parental example is a factor, that the father and mother who don't smoke are in a more favorable position to win their child not to smoke. However, we need to recognize that our folk-way is such that the use of tobacco is generally considered as belonging only to those grown-up or nearly so. To the child of 10 the parent can say that smoking is for big people with about as much effect as to say that pickles are not for little children. Of course, we can only guess what might happen in the future should our folk-ways approve smoking generally by those as young as 10 or 12.

The health argument, I believe, is the strongest. Practically all of us parents, with this argument in mind, strongly wish our children should not smoke at all or not until they have fully grown. Yet most of us will do very well indeed if we prevail on our children not to smoke until they are grown.

Cost of Smoking

I don't believe we have emphasized the argument of cost enough. Many a youth, especially if he has learned to operate on an allowance or budget, would not start smoking if he had carefully counted the actual money cost for cigarettes. Right now, many youths patriotically eager to buy war stamps and bonds would, I believe, respond to this cost argument. Many more who want to grow fit to be the best possible soldiers by and by also might respond to the health appeal.

Let no parent suppose he can keep his child from smoking merely by commanding him not to smoke.

Urges Moderation

Having done your very best to keep your son or daughter from smoking, suppose this child begins to smoke. Your next step is to induce him or her to smoke in moderation. I hope you don't cause the child to smoke clandestinely, abuse him, or act childishly in any way about his smoking. Better to have your child love you and smoke than to despise you and smoke anyway.

Solving Parent Problems

Q To a youth beginning to earn what would you recommend as his wise early expenditures?

A On dental care and check-up by a doctor, systematic investment in more war savings bonds, for good books and high grade magazines; and a night course, if available; otherwise a correspondence course.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Well Barney Baruch and the boys laid it on the line.

We need more Bina and less bungling.

It took three smart men one month to dissect, analyze and recommend in the current situation which has been passed around from committee to board to agency for eight months like the ketchup bottle in a main street diner.

Barney's committee found we had plans in all popular sizes but no tires.

The committee learned that our stockpile of rubber was small but we had a surplus of wrong guesses—most of them with treaded brains.

The committee found that we had plenty of air but no tubes to put it in.

They got synthetic answers to direct questions and a hatful of vulcanized predictions but out of it came sense and information.

Thought for the day: Aluminum next.

Bible Thought For Today

Not so shall it be among you, but whosoever would be first among you shall be your servant. Even as the Son of Man came not to be served by to serve to give his life a ransom for many.—Matthew 20: 25-27.

Washington's pattern for failure: Appoint a man; don't give him power to give orders; but make him plead for results; don't back him up.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:14. Sun rises tomorrow 6:45.

If you think women are not working to win the war just take a trip into the country any day—or night either.

A bishop attended a banquet and a clumsy waiter dropped a plate of hot soup in his lap. The clergyman glanced around with a look of agony and exclaimed: "Will some layman please say something appropriate?"

There is something wrong with people who are not interested in winning the war. There will be something wrong with them if we lose the war.

PERT AND PERTINENT

"The public remembers the headlines on big radio programs but not the sponsors."

"The pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the constitution of the United States..."

—some men seem to think it means the pursuit of the other fellow's happiness.

"Some women can't seem to decide which of several men they want to choose for a husband."

—it would be well for the several men to decide that such women make unfaithful wives.

"Mary had a little lamb..."

—because there is a priority on girdles.

Give the world the best you have and the best will come back to you.

People will have to be ready for everything and there will be lots of that.

Soup is now being made out of peanuts. No doubt it will taste just as scandalous as some made out of a lot of other things.

ON THRIFT

Seneca: "Thrift comes too late when you find it at the bottom of your purse."

Sir Thomas Lipton: "If it were possible to inject the quality of saving into every boy, we would have a great many more real men."

Russell Sage: "Thrift is such a simple thing—and it means so much. It is the foundation of success in business, of contentment in the home, of standing in society."

When a North Hill man asked his wife why she fed every tramp that comes to their door, she replied: "You've no idea what joy it is to see a man eat a meal without finding fault with the cooking."

A person does not have to live very long to regret a lot of things.

The farmer is the only independent business man. You can get milk from cows without soft-soaping them.

"I hear your husband isn't drinking any more." "Well, maybe he isn't drinking any more, but he's certainly drinking as much."

NOON-HOUR NIFTIES

He: "Do you think you could care for a chap like me?"

She: "Yes, if he wasn't too much like you."

The only think that keeps some birds from trading horses is that they haven't any horse.

Where there is more truth than poetry there could be both.

Someone has raised the point that he would like to read a book or see a movie in which the hero was a buck private and remained a buck private to the end. The one who suggested such a story or picture has a feeling that wars are won by buck privates and that too little praise is sung in their honor.

The less we hear some people talk the more confidence we have in what they say.

About this time of the year a lot of Methodist preachers don't know where they are going but they are on their way.

Manners are nice, but why should the government say "please, sir" only to big manufacturers?

"I sure have got a bad case of hay fever."

"That so? Here, try some of this."

"Is it really good?"

"I'll say so! I've had hay fever for thirty-eight years, and never use anything else."

INTRODUCTIONS

When I am introduced to people, especially when I am one of a group, I don't seem to make the proper impression. What can I do to make myself noticed and liked?

Judy: Answer: Only recently I met a young girl who was a great favorite with her clique. I analyzed her to see what made her so well liked. She was fairly pretty, but not sufficiently so to justify such popularity.

Russell Sage: Her main charm lay in her ability to make her tete-a-tete think she was tremendously interested in everything he said. She had an attentive, intelligent expression and a ready smile. When she was introduced to me, she immediately made me feel that she liked me—was delighted that I happened along, without mind you, any gushing flattery.

It was all tacit approval. She was generally sociable, effervescent, vivacious and cheerful. Therein lay the secret of her charm. The world just naturally avoids down faces and follows happy ones. If you want to be popular, shun severe expressions, aloofness, reticence.

Question: In what order does the bride party go to the church? How many persons should be in one car, etc.—S. A. K.

Answer: The bride goes to the church in the car with her father. The bride's mother leaves the house first, alone, or if she wishes she may take one or two of the bridesmaids in her car. The maid-of-honor, the remainder of the bridesmaids and the flower girls follow closely behind in either their own cars or those supplied by the bride's family. The mother's car must have room reserved for the bride's father who will also return in it. The bride's automobile arrives last of the procession and stands at the church door until she and her new husband return to it after the ceremony to drive back to the house for the breakfast or the reception.

Cars, of course, call for the bridesmaids and the maid-of-honor and take them to the bride's house, from which they proceed to the church.

HOME TALENT

"Who was the first man, Bobby?" asked the teacher.

"George Washington," answered the young American promptly.

"Why, no, Bobby. You ought to know better than that. It was Adam."

"On well," said Bobby, determined to prove himself right. "I wasn't counting foreigners."

On Monday morning, the housewife observed Lizzy taking an ice pick out of the folds of her dress and throwing it into the ice bucket.

"Lizzy," she asked, "what have you been doing with our ice pick?"

"Land sakes alive, Missy, don't you know no colored gal what is a lady would go to town. Satisfy night without a ice pick?"

A fireman at Des Moines, Ia., wanted Sundays off so he could preach in a church and he was fired. Bet he felt like turning the hose on some one.

Simile for today: As obsolete as a hick-town speed trap.

Americanism: Worrying about the shortage of workers, refusing to use boys and girls of 14 to 17, as England does, because they are "children."

Pleasant Years In Japan Are Recalled
Writer Baffled By Reports Coming Now
Cannot Believe Japanese Have Changed

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 — All news relative to Japan activities of 50 days represents the islanders (and represents 'em absolutely correctly. I haven't a shadow of a doubt as to exactly opposite to the kind of folk I took 'em to be during a couple of years' residence in their midst, as an American news correspondent, once on a time.

It was a long while ago, it's true, but not long ago for a nationality to go through the processes of so fundamental a change in character as that one appears to have undergone in the intervening period. Evidently I was mistaken initially, but certainly it was the most completely 100 per cent mistake that I ever made on any subject.

The Yankee news service I represented had an information-swapping arrangement with what was known as the Nippon Dempo Tsushinsha, meaning the Japan Telegraph News Agency. At its head was an old Jap named Mituzunaga, who has been mentioned in dispatches from the Orient of late.

The welcome I got from that outfit was something to warm the human heart. Director Mituzunaga couldn't speak English, to be sure, but his foreign editor, Ryomatsuke Seta, educated in an American university, was assigned to care for me. I wanted interviews with high muck-a-mucks—cabinet members and such. I'd only to express such a wish and a messenger would arrive with a note, written in hen-tracks, cordially inviting me to drop in. Editor Seta would translate the hen tracks for me, and if the sought-for potentate was unfamiliar with English, would be on hand to act as interpreter, or would assign to the job his assistant, Sub-Editor Ooda.

Complete Co-operation

And, believe me, those cabinet members were communicative. I would not guarantee that they always told the truth, but they were a darned sight more polite than the average functionary in Washington.

It was solely a matter of business, either.

My wife was with me, and the Seta's, the Mituzunaga's and the Ooda's were families of their own. We entertained back and forth. I never knew anyone in the United States whom I liked better than the Seta's. Had war broken out then, I'd no more have suspected that pair of an inclination to torture me as an internee, than I'd have anticipated such an inclination on the part of any of my friendly neighbors here at home.

And (dash-ding it!) I doubt that they'd have had it.

My theory is that the torturers are that infernal Jap military class, who run things seawards of the (Continued on Page Five)

CONCERNING SHORTAGES

It is rather difficult to understand why the administration of this nation is occupying so much of its time in discussing alleged shortages in essential products necessary for the comfort and welfare of citizens.

This nation is on a sugar rationing basis because, forsooth, the administration believes, or at least says it believes, there is not possibly enough sugar available to satisfy every sweet tooth in the nation.

If that is true, any sugar that can possibly be brought into the nation, should not be stopped at the borders. If that is true, why not eliminate all duties upon sugar and encourage the importation of it as much as possible, but no, that would never do. If anyone brings a few pounds of sugar over from Mexico, he is punished.

The same is true about automobile tires. It has been possible for a motorist driving into Mexico to equip his automobile with new tires. Perhaps not as good tires as might be obtained, without question, in the United States in 1941, but they have been very good tires, but the motorist is not permitted to do that. He makes himself liable to a fine or imprisonment if he is caught trying it. It would seem that if there was (Continued on Page Five)

What Noted People Say

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau: "Some form of forced savings, and that's calling it by its ugliest name, is necessary to supplement the voluntary savings plan (war bonds) which is not producing, but the money is needed to close the inflationary gap."

HARTFORD—Clare Booth Luce, keynotes the Connecticut Republican state convention: "The fact remains that while the administration and many of its appointees have talked a tough war, so far, unhappily, they have fought a soft war."

WASHINGTON—Claude Wickard, secretary of agriculture estimates America's food production at an all-time high, but warns: "Even so the demands upon American food and fiber are so great that we will not have enough to give every one all the food he or she wants."

WASHINGTON—Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia predicts a tremendous drive for governmental economy and adds: "The new tax bill certainly will make the people tax conscious."

Let Them Both Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. AS ON April 24, the President last Monday presented the dangers of inflation and pointed out the remedies with great clarity and force. As on April 24 except that he was months late in his own grasp of the facts, no fault can be found with the soundness of his reasoning.

THEY WERE good speeches—both of them—and it is a sound program. Mr. B. M. Baruch will agree about that because it is the program he strongly urged upon the president a long time before we entered the war, but for which he was then unable to get any administration support. There is no trouble about the program.

Entering Twelfth Year Of Ministry Here On Sunday

REV. R. J. FREDERICKS

Rev. Raymond J. Fredericks, pastor of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle on the east side, will begin the twelfth year of his ministry in New Castle on Sunday.

Eleven years ago Mr. Fredericks accepted a pastoral call to the Calvary Presbyterian church in East New Castle. During his ministry there the membership increased from 62 to over 200 members. In 1938 the pastor and a number of the members erected and moved into the tabernacle on Vogon street. In 1935 Mr. Fredericks and his congregation erected a summer pavilion in which to conduct all-summer Bible conferences. This was the beginning of seven annual summer Bible conferences which have been attended with great appreciation by thousands of people both in the pavilion and the new tabernacle.

The Calvary Gospel Tabernacle of New Castle was dedicated on the first Sunday of December, 1938, as an evangelistic and Bible conference center.

During his ministry here, Mr. Fredericks and his congregation have seen 21 young people enter Bible institutes to prepare for full-time Christian work.

Mr. Fredericks' subject Sunday morning at 10:15 will be "The Secret of Getting Things From God," and at 7:30 p. m., "Why I Came to New Castle."

County Sabbath School Program

Activities Outlined For Sabbath Schools During Coming Months

A joint adult and administrative conference observance of Religious Education week, a good delegation to attend the 80th convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, and a campaign to maintain contact with our soldiers, are the outstanding activities for the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association on their early fall program.

Religious Education week is from Sunday, September 27, to Sunday, October 4, and the joint adult and administrative conference will be held on the first Sunday—the 27th—at the First Baptist church of this city. Religious Education week should show an advance in the home in the church and in the community, and how this may be done will be outlined at the conference.

As to attendance at the state convention at Uniontown, October 7, 8 and 9, Lawrence county has set for its goal 50 delegates, and Sunday schools are urged to make this investment in Christian education by sending at least one delegate. The expense for one delegate would be about $12.50. Mrs. D. W. Nesbit, transportation chairman, is planning to furnish the round trip for $3.50 which would be about one cent per mile. Credential cards may be obtained by calling 351.

Also this fall a check will be made on the county Sunday schools that are sending weekly or monthly letters to the boys in the service, or are keeping contact with them in some other way, and suggested plans will be given as to how this may best be done. Letters from home and the home Sunday school help keep up the morale of those in the different branches of the service, and the Sunday schools now doing this state that they received many expressions of appreciation from the boys in our army camps both in this country and abroad.

CHOIR AT COUNTY HOME ON SUNDAY

The Swedish choir from the Lutheran church of Bessemer will present a special program of music at the Lawrence county home, Ellwood road, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The program will be under the supervision of the Clifford Ryan Bible class of the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street. Albert Martin will introduce the choir.

MISSION TO HAVE BACK HOME HOUR

Clifton Flats Mission will have its fifth annual Back Home Hour Sunday evening from 10 to 12:30 o'clock. Twenty-seven church are to take part.

Many quartet selections and other vocal and instrumental numbers have been arranged.

1776: "We pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Instruction will be given both in the Finnish and English languages. The school will convene every Sunday at nine a. m., as in former years. Because of the opening of Sunday school, all Sunday morning worship services will commence at 10:30 a. m.

a Constitution-violating dictator. This is a vital matter and they want action. Moreover, they do not much care how they get it so long as it is along the lines laid down. They have had enough of stalling both from congress and the president.

THE THING to be feared now is not that Mr. Roosevelt will act but that he won't. The danger is that he may fail to follow through this time just as he failed to follow through last time. It is all very well for the president to blame congress, and certainly that body has a poor record on this whole subject of price regulation. But it has an alibi—and not a bad one—in the argument that congress cannot be expected to function without White House leadership; that it had no leadership in the right direction on this issue of inflation but a good deal in the wrong direction.

FOR EXAMPLE, the president now upbraids congress for failure promptly to enact an adequate tax law and for its passage of a bill which establishes farm prices at 110 per cent above parity. Both of these things—the failure to pass the tax bill and the passage of the 110 per cent parity bill—clash with the president's program and tend to promote that "vicious circle" which he describes. But, whose fault was it? Is it not the president and his secretary of treasury who still stand in the way of the sales tax without which an adequate tax bill is impossible? And was it not the president's secretary of agriculture who acquiesced in the drive of the farm lobby for higher price legislation? And was it not Mr. Roosevelt who delayed opposition to the farm lobby proposals until they could not be blocked and then signed the bill containing them?

The answer to all these questions is "Yes." In addition, it should be pointed out that it was the president who personally killed the Smith bills which would have stabilized wages and outlawed strikes many months ago. Now Mr. Roosevelt tells congress to repeal the 110 per cent parity bill, to cut a ceiling over farm prices, and that he will stabilize wages. It is not surprising that the farm forces are insisting that the wage ceiling should be established in the same bill with the farm ceiling. They—and no one can be sure that what Mr. Roosevelt calls stabilization will be real stabilization at all.

ONE REASON for feeling this way are the unctuous statements of the Messrs. Murray and Green, agreeing to abide by the president's decision. The Messrs. Murray and Green are the type of labor leader who talk loudly about their unselfish patriotism but who oppose every decision in which they do not get the best of it. Another reason is recollection that, though the president last April declared "our standard of living must be lowered," that declaration was followed by a series of decisions from his War Labor board which raised instead of lowered that standard.

CONSIDERING THESE things, the request of the president that congress lower the ceiling on farm prices but leave the wage ceiling to him naturally arouses no enthusiasm among members of congress and is the cause of considerable invidious comment. In brief, the very bad situation that exists today is as much due to the inaction and lack of leadership upon the part of Mr. Roosevelt as to the impotence and lack of character upon the part of congress. Neither is entitled to throw stones at the other. However, there is no nourishment in further dwelling upon what should or should not have been done. The point now is that there is no excuse for congress not promptly to carry out the president's recommendations and none, for the president not to measure fully up to his own words. His action in forbidding double pay for Sundays in a forty-hour week was the first indication that he is going to.

The politician's first concern is to save his country. He figures it would be lost without him to guide it.

comparatively civilized element. I just can't believe it of folk I knew so well and liked so much.

There's a trickiness in the Jap make-up, but, if that imitation was pure trickiness, it was a wonder.

They fool you in another way. The dope has been that Japs ingeniously have been deceptive. It's agreed that the islanders are good imitators. The Japanese have built ships and planes and other mechanical devices that have looked all right on paper, but the theory's been that they wouldn't work very well in practice. They appear to work pretty blamed well.

How to Retaliate

They've got us on the hog-train in one respect, though.

They catch us democrats, sojourning in such areas as I've mentioned, intern 'em and treat 'em inhumanly.

And what are we going to do about it?

Grab their internes and treat 'em the same way?

Good gosh! We can't.

We've got an American newspaperman, J. B. Powell, hooked by the Japanese, just back with most of his feet cut from him while he was imprisoned, his feet froze and gangrene set in. What are we going to do in retaliation?

Our Jap internes have been well treated.

I know some of 'em, like Matsuko Kato. He had a pleasant stay here as a guest. American journalism liked him. He's been returned to Tokyo undamaged. Some Americans, caught in Jap areas, have been returned more or less dissected.

Don't times change?

They do.

These children were between the ages of 5 and 14 years.

Forty-three per cent were classed as school accidents.

They occurred at school or going to and from school.

Fifty-seven per cent were due to non-school accidents.

These occurred at home or away from home or school.

Two of every five such deaths were due to automobile accidents.

In 1940 there were 50 school-bus accidents with fatalities.

A total of 24 school-bus passengers were killed.

One-third of school accidents occur in a gymnasium.

Organized out-door games are safer than unorganized play.

Parents and teachers should continually stress safety.

We shouldn't depend too much on patriotism. It does much better when supported by a profit or the fear of jail.

any way of getting new tires into this country from Mexico or any other country, it would be a mighty good thing to take them in. It would relieve the shortage just that much anyway.

The president has been talking to the newspapermen in his press conferences and has asked the newspapermen to plead for full civilian participation in scrap salvage drives.

There's a newspaper readers' survey of the nation that there is a forthcoming shortage in many foods. He did add to his talk that there would be no general shortage but that many specific items available now would be lacking later, and called attention to the fact that there was a current shortage of meats in some areas which was symptomatic of conditions that would cause deficiencies in certain meat products.

I cannot conceive of any reason for any meat shortage in these United States. The herds of beef cattle contained in the great ranches of the Mississippi contain sufficient beef

Ellwood City High Defeats Union High 27-0 On Friday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 12.—With Union Township high gridsters presenting stubborn resistance that never faltered in the face of certain defeat, Ellwood City high school's 1942 football powerhouse defeated the plucky, but outclassed, Lawrence countians, by a 27 to 0 shutout last night at Lincoln field.

There was another perfect night for the second game of the season, and an estimated crowd of 3,000 fans was on hand to see the long-time rivals clash. The Croft-Gillis machine displayed definite improvement over last week, but will require much more polish if they are to retain the Beaver valley championship against the strong valley contenders. They will meet their first real opposition next Friday night, when Farrell comes here.

Ellwood scored twice, easily, before the first quarter was half over. Conti took the opening kick-off on his own 22 and returned it to the 47 before being stopped. Conti Glogowski and Smiley clashed in the line in a sustained drive, and Glogowski carried the ball around left end for the first touchdown. Conti added the extra point by a line plunge.

For the second tally, Ellwood took the ball on their own 36 and once again marched downfield with the same line and skirting the ends for large gains. A 20-yard pass from Smiley to Houk scored the second touchdown, and Conti made it 14-0 with a good placement.

Third Touchdown
The third touchdown was scored midway in the second period, when Dudick recovered Annarella's fumble on Union's 32. It was Dudick's first appearance of the season, since he has been nursing an injured ankle, and he displayed plenty of class that made him one of last year's best players. McClintock went in for Smiley and shot a good pass to Glogowski, which took the ball to Union's 20. Conti smashed the line for 20 yards in three tries, to score the third touchdown, and added a good placement.

Before the half ended, Conti sent in many of the second-stringers, who played the most of the remainder of the contest.
A bad punt by Union provided the setting for the fourth and final touchdown, with Ellwood taking the ball on the loser's 20. A Conti-to-Cartwright reverse was good for four yards; Smiley circled right end for 11 more, and then Glogowski went around the other end to touchdown land. Conti's try for extra point was wide and the score stood at 27-0.

Ellwood scored a fifth touchdown in the third quarter when Cartwright intercepted Annarella's pass and ran for a touchdown. The officials called a clipping penalty on Ellwood in the play, which nullified the play. There was no scoring nor outstanding plays in the final period.

Annarella, captain of the visitors, and Cumberland left half, were the best players for the Patterson coached crew, which, undoubtedly, will provide good opposition for schools of its own class.

Nat C. Wilson To Visit Chapter

New Eastern Area Manager
Will Be Guest Of Chapter On Monday

WILL TELL OF WORK ABROAD

Nat C. Wilson, new eastern area manager of the American Red Cross, with headquarters at Alexandria, Va., will be the guest of the Lawrence county chapter on Monday and Tuesday, and will be the speaker at a dinner meeting arranged for Monday evening at the Field club, when he will tell of conditions in Russia, China and Spain, where he has recently been on special missions of relief for the Red Cross.

Mr. Wilson served the Red Cross in the capacity of an executive director and special field representative, from which work he was summoned to direct relief operations abroad, being sent to Spain where he distributed the contents of the first mercy ship. Later he was sent into China and Russia on similar missions. He will be able to give those fortunate enough to hear him a graphic word picture of inside conditions in these countries.

He served in the Mississippi flood disaster with Miss Margaret F. Bordenstein, executive director, and Miss Thyrta Fulton, home service director of the Lawrence county chapter, who made arrangements for the dinner meeting on Monday evening so that the chapter board members and representative citizens would have an opportunity of meeting with him and hearing his story of conditions abroad.

Tuesday at noon he will meet with the executive committee at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton. This committee consists of Ralph F. Davis, chapter chairman; Attorney Glenn Berry and Archie Shoup, vice chairmen; Norman E. Clark, treasurer, and Charles E. Allen, secretary. They will discuss chapter problems and the fall program. During his visit here Mr. Wilson will also confer with the Ellwood City auxiliary representatives.

September 12, 1942
Our program Tuesday will be a sound film, presented by Adrian D. Supple, of the Bell Telephone Co. The title, "Air Raid Warning".
When you see this picture, you will have a definite idea of what our air raid warning system really means to us. This will be the first meeting of the fall attendance contest. Everybody out!
Yours very truly,
Thomas I. Elliott, Sec'y

New Castle High's Speed Routs Butler, 41-0

Opening Night Gallery Of 9,000 Watches Battle

Bob Lee And Russ Currie Lead Onslaught With Two Touchdowns Apiece; Pete Tedesco And Ted Lash Garner Remaining Six-Pointers; Mike Roussos Electrifies Fans By Kicking Five Consecutive Points After Touchdowns; Team Cohesion, Running Attack Stand Out.

Exhibiting rare early season team coherence and presenting a pretty to look at running attack, New Castle high embarked on its 1942 Class AA WPIAL football trail by annihilating Butler high, 41-0, Friday night at Taggart stadium, before a partisan congregation of approximately 9,000.

The "Hurricane" smoothies grabbed the first of a half dozen touchdowns literally before the gallery had a chance to sit down. DeFoggi booted to Elkins Brothers on the New Castle 25. The colored athlete fought his way to the 43. "General" Bobby Lee, artist left half, sprinted off tackle for 13. Employing the same play, Lee reached the Butler 34 before being grounded. Russ Currie swept wide around left end for a yard and Brothers bulled straight through the center of the wall to Butler's 19.

Currie scores first. On successive line thrusts, Lee and Brothers failed to gain. On the seventh play of the game, Lee took the ball and stepped back as if to pass. Currie wheeled around from his right half station, lifted the ball out of Lee's hand and kangarooed across the last chalk stripe. The moth-eaten Statue of Liberty play was cleverly executed with Lee feinting beautifully and the blockers performing their chores masterfully. Mike Roussos split the H for the extra mark, thus boosting the local margin 7-0.

Butler's "big moment" dropped up near the close of the period when Sam Ciccone, who replaced the injured John Zubkowsky, was pocketed by DeFoggi on the local 45. DeFoggi netted two on a left end junkie and flipped to Diamond to the New Castle 35. A 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness accompanied the gain and pushed the leather to the 20.

Merle Iannotti met resistance at right tackle but gained two yards to the New Castle 18. DeFoggi's aerial was grounded by Gunn, who moved at left end on defense. DeFoggi again led the skykline but missed his mark. Genkinger ended the threat by snatching DeFoggi's aerial on the local 16. Currie and Lee got to the period closed.

Currie set up the second tally when he intercepted DeFoggi's toss on the New Castle 45 and comed over the southern goal line. The officials, however, ruled that the runner had stepped out of bounds on the 29.

Lee flies over. On a fake reverse, Lee darted around left end to the Butler 6 and then dug his cleats into paydirt on a wide right end scamper. Roussos converted his second straight point after touchdown.

Unable to pierce the New Castle line for substantial yardage and the passing attack stymied, DeFoggi quick-kicked. Lee picked up the oval on his 20 and was nailed on the 25. Currie broke loose around right end. DeFoggi, the last Butler man, managed to grab the speedster's jersey and held on for dear life, downing Currie on the Butler 38.

Currie was nipped for a 5-yard loss on a reverse and Lee's pass was checked. Currie was injured on the pass attempt and Roscoe Williams replaced him.

On the prettiest play of the evening, Lee faked a reverse to Williams. The colored whiz kept the ball and raced unmolested for the third touchdown. The 37-yard-run caught the Butler team napping. Lee's perfect fake sent the entire visiting gridsmen in pursuit of Williams. With Lee holding, Roussos booted his third straight placement. With the first half time running out, Butler resorted to hand grenades in hopes of scoring. Williams, however, intercepted Perry's aerial in mid-field and outran the field to the Butler 4 where he fumbled. Tedeski grabbed the pigskin and stepped over. Roussos, who kicked five consecutive points, annexed his fourth to increase the local lead 28-0.

Roussos Boots For h. The fifth six-pointer was jammed with impressiveness. Russ Currie tucked the ball under his arms on his 24 and, behind a cordon of blockers and a fancy piece of running along the sidelines, bolted 76 yards into the land where touch-downs bloom. Roussos' foot shot again was a bull's eye.

Coach Bridenbaugh, who had been substituting freely, sent in another stream of second and third stringers. The running attack continued to produce yardage. As the third period ended, Albert Knight reached the Butler 42.

Lash, substitute fullback, found a wide avenue at center and lugged the ball to the 20. Lee found right end easy again as he dashed the remaining distance but the officials ruled he hit the out of bounds mark on the 1. Lash plunged over for the last touchdown. Jesse Gunn muffed the extra mark.

New Castle's lightning-like speed left the invaders lurking in the dark. Lee performed like a magician, feinting flawlessly throughout and running smartly. Russ Currie, who was hurt last season and thus was forced to play a mediocre role, put on a one-man track show.

Behind the "Cane" triumph emerged the name of Pete Tedesco. The Pollock avenue athlete, as tough as pig-iron, blocked viciously and played an alert defensive game.

Up front, Dave Genkinger left little to be desired as did Mike Roussos. Tony Razzano spent considerable time in the Butler backfield.

Eddie Jacobs won the plaudits of the gallery with unusual defensive finesse. He uncocked several tackles that left knee injury which is likely to keep him out of the lineup for possibly two weeks, made a credible showing. Williams, Ciccone, Knight, Izzo and Lash left the battlefield with high honors.

Outweighed and lacking in experience, Butler put up a game battle throughout, refusing to give up despite the lopsided count. The invaders' spirit struck a happy chord. Iannotti, DeFoggi and Diamond played well in the backfield.

Domke and Bennett shared honors among the linemen.

New Castle's next schuffe, with Youngstown East is scheduled here for Friday night at 8:15 o'clock.

High Band Scores Hit At Grid Game

New Castle Band, 88 Strong, Presented Impressive Musical Program

New Castle high's gayly caparisoned band, directed by Joseph F. Replogle, won its way into the hearts of 9,000 persons last night at Taggart stadium with a simple but unusually impressive musical program.

Before the start of scuffle, the band played The Star Spangled Banner.

Between halves, the 88-piece organization, which will be augmented by six more members, marched near the 50-yard stripe and played the Butler high school song. Facing the New Castle stand, the band also hit with the recently published march, "America Forever," by Colonel.

Seven winsome drum majorettes, headed by Stella Noga, participated in the program. Other majorettes are: Jean Tribby, Betty Lou Hall, Anthea Sweet, Margaret Henderson, Jean Montanary and Peggy Rishel.

Richard Alexander, Violet Tobin and Thomasina Armond.

Substitutes: Tom Pearce, Bart Balentine, Marian Cooper and Stephanie Elari.

Localities Muff Pair Of Scoring Chances In Fast Tilt Played Friday

EVANS CITY, Sept. 12.—A veteran Evans City high grid combination defeated a stronghanded Shenango Township high aggregation, 13-0 Friday afternoon at Evans City.

The first touchdown came on a 55-yard dash by Marburger in the first period after Shenango muffed a scoring chance when Pruitt fumbled on the Evans City 27.

In the second, the Lawrence count-downers hauled the pigskin to the Evans City 2. A backfield in motion penalty forced Shenango back five yards and mainly helped to squash the drive.

Pushing deep into Shenango territory in the fourth, the host club tallied again on Marburger's 14-yard dash on a reverse. He also added the extra point.

Fruitt, F. Adamczyk, Staph and Moran were outstanding for Shenango while Marburger and Manerino divided honors for the winners.

Lineup:

Different Pitt Lineup To Face Gophers Sept. 26

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—The Pitt Panther starting lineup against Minnesota in the season's opener on September 26, will be a very different one from the one that took the field against the Gophers last fall. Only two of the starting 1941 combination will be in Charley Bowser's current eleven.

The two are George Allshouse at center, and Walter West at quarterback. Matt Gebel, who started at fullback, is now on the second team.

Halfbacks Bill Dutton and Jack Stetler both played but were not starters, as did Jack Durshan and Vince Antonelli on the line. Dillon Stotack, and Salvucci were in for only a few minutes.

Cards Are Only One Game Behind

Tighten National League Race By 3-0 Defeat Of Brooklyn On Friday

By JACK MAHON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The loop of despair drawn a bit tighter about the necks of the Brooklyn Dodgers by their ace right-hander, Morten Cooper, the pennant-chasing St. Louis Cardinals today prepared to squeeze the last ounce of life out of the famed Flatbush Bums' bid for their second straight National league flag.

Cooper, pitching another masterful game, was the No. 1 hero of his league yesterday, when he blanked the Dodgers, 3 to 0, before 29,744 partisans for the 10th time. He not only became the first pitcher in the loop to win 20 games but he also slammed out two hits, off his arch-rival, Whitlow Wyatt, which sparked the sixth and eighth innings in which the Cards collected all the runs they needed to win.

Today Manager Billy Southworth will send either his veteran southpaw, Max Lanier, or his rookie marvel, Johnny Beazley, into battle against Lefty Max Macon, in the game that "could" break up the whole race.

Though the Dodgers are still a game in front of the Cards, who yesterday won their 28th game in their last 33 starts, and a defeat today would put them out of the league, by any means, the guys from the banks of the Gowanus cannot afford to lose this afternoon.

If they do the team will be hit full in the face with a terrific emotional slap. They have been publicly chastised by their president, Larry Schaff, who has left them to wish Washington on his own personal U. S. Army affairs and they have the rest of the league against them.

So if St. Louis can pull another game out of the fire, the Dodgers will have to face the charge, from their boss and their colleagues in the league, and their fans that they have finally "cracked."

Though blessed with a break in the schedule which enables them to play the majority of their remaining 15 games with the last place Phillies, the highly temperamental Durocher believes could go sky high if they were held on the premises this afternoon.

Beazley May Twirl
Southworth wouldn't say who he'd start but he has a hunch the very dependable Beazley will get the nod. Johnny, the year's outstanding pitching development, has won 19 and lost 5 while Lanier, despite 12 wins against 7 losses, and much more "savvy," hasn't looked too good in his last two starts.

Macon has been in exceptionally good form in the last few weeks and should prove very hard to beat, if he can throw back to his last couple of starts.

Yesterday's game was all Cooper's. He limited them to three hits, one of them a scratch single by Pee Wee Reese in the third inning and started both drives on Wyatt by clipping his foe for unexpected singles to open the sixth and eighth frames in which the Cards collected all their runs.

His hit in the sixth was followed by Brown's sacrifice and Slaughter's line single off Camilli's glove. In the eighth Mort beat out a hit to deep short, took third on Brown's double to left and scored, with Jim Moore's smash to left center.

The only other outstanding event of the afternoon in the National league saw Ace Adams of the N. Y. league establish a new record by appearing in his 57th game of the season. The ace pitched the ninth frame as the Giants, thanks to fouls from Hi Bothorn, squeezed passes from Hi Bothorn, the Chicago Cubs and broke the former mark held by Chris Mathewson, former pitcher of the Giants, and Hugh Mulcahy of the Phillies.

Cincinnati needed 11 innings to beat the Phils 8 to 5, in the only other game, Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Braves twin bill have been cancelled.

Over in the American league the World Champion N. Y. Yankees suffered their second straight shut-out humiliation at the hands of the Chicago White Sox. Edgar Smith, who had lost 19 games, held them to seven hits in nosing out Atley Donald, who allowed but six.

The Boston Red Sox really laid into the Cleveland Indians, 15 to 2; into the Philadelphia Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 4, and St. Louis trounced the Washington Senators, 10 to 4, in the other games of the day.

SUCCESSFUL DEBUT
NEW YORK.—When Jumbo Bonham of the Yankees finished Marvin Breuer's pitching assignment against the White Sox, it marked the first time this season that he acted as a relief worker.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 12.—There isn't going to be a dull moment this fall when Indiana takes the field—either for the spectators or the opposing teams.

Make no mistake about it, this is going to be the strongest team that has represented the cream and crimson since Col. Alvin "Bo" McMillin took over the reins nine years ago.

McMillin must thank his lucky saints when he looks out the practice field and sees the fabulous Billy Hillenbrand scampering around. Bill fell off a horse some weeks ago and cracked a bone in his left arm, in addition to sustaining a kick in the head. The crack wasn't serious and he is about ready for action.

Hillenbrand, of course, isn't the whole Indiana squad, but he's a good start. Capt. Bob White last year ranked as one of the circuit's chief ground gainers. And Charley Jacoby earned recognition as a sophomore last year as one of the best defensive backs in the conference, not a single pass being completed in his territory.

Included in the first backfield, is another junior, Lou Saban. He plays quarterback and is as tough as pig-iron. The veteran contingent also lists Earl Deloway, probably the best punter in the conference, Russell Harrell and Dale Swihart.

In addition, there are a flock of sophomores coming up who will give Bo about as talented collection of yearling backs as any coach could ask.

The line situation isn't quite as rosy, but only at guard, where all three regulars are gone, is the problem serious. One sophomore tabbed as a starter is John Bochnicka, who never played a game of football before entering Indiana, but looms as a natural in the line.

Six-foot, 200-pound Pete Pihos of Chicago, another sophomore, will share the ends with Junior Ted Haspes who earned his spurs last year.

Tackle positions will be taken care of by three veterans—Bob Zimny, Ed Bell and Fred Huff.

John Taverner, at center should be one of the best in the conference this year after his brilliant performance as a sophomore last season, with newcomer Joe Black of Gary, Ind., apparently an able replacement.

If Bo's boys get past their Ohio State game October 3, not even Minnesota is likely to stop them later in the campaign.

GREAT BARLICK
Reports and players realize that 27-year-old Al Barlick, deep-throated umpire in the National League, is on his way to being one of the best arbiters in the major leagues.

PERSEVERANCE PAYS
Ace of the New York Yankee mound staff, Spurgeon Ferdinand Chandler, the Georgia "Yankee," finally is winning a long fight to make good in the big leagues.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

The New Castle team made all the score last evening... too bad the Butler visitors couldn't take home a little score. Some people said the weather was a little warm for football... it rather cooled off yesterday evening... not that it was cold... it won't take long for that to happen.

Next week... on the 19th the big free show of the civilian defense activities will be in progress... Monday night the 14th there is a special meeting for all Senior Air Raid Wardens at the City Building... the meeting is to start promptly at 8 o'clock. Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent will be there to explain new rulings for air raid wardens... Numa Vidal, Mead Brunton, William Bowen, who are in charge of the show Saturday evening, will be there to explain the duties for that evening. Al Shenkan, who will be in charge of air raid wardens and fire watchers the night of the show is calling this meeting... We hope to see a 100% turn out. This will be the first time that all Senior Air Raid Wardens have been under the same roof at the same time.

Take a good soup bone... with plenty of meat... a small amount of every vegetable that you lay your hands on... cook all for six or seven hours (together) and you have some mighty fine eating. Seasoned up with Bay Leaves or Rose Mary will make it a little different. And then if you can't eat it all, this fresh vegetable soup, you can put the remainder up in jars. We should all eat fresh vegetables while we can get them... help the war effort and help ourselves to health. You don't need fancy cooking to be able to enjoy food. But all food must be cooked with loving care if you want to get the best taste and make people smack their lips with satisfaction. Just slapping food into the pot doesn't make the best meal... Thought must be given the preparation.

Now that summer is over and school has started it's time that we think about going back to church for at least one service each Sunday or what ever day you choose for church. We all need to be inspired... we need to take that short time out of each week to do some tall thinking... thinking about ourselves, our family, our neighbors and the God who made all this possible. So why not make it a point to attend a service this week-end.

Mixed And Quiet

Strength In Scattered Specialties Features Trading Of Morning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The stock market was mixed and quiet today, with strength in scattered specialties again featuring.

Twin City Rapid Transit issues were outstanding for the second day in a row. The preferred added 7 points to yesterday's spurt of 9%, reaching 73, while the common added 1% to Friday's gain of 1%, hitting 54. Both were at new peaks. Commodities generally were colorless.

Modest gains were chalked up by several leaders, including U. S. Rubber, Pennsylvania R. R., American Tobacco "B," Kennecott and Goodrich.

Fractional declines were incurred by General Motors, N. Y. Central, Westinghouse Electric, Standard Oil of N. J. and Montgomery Ward.

Philip Morris dropped a point to 66.

Most issues in the bond market held around previous closing levels in extremely quiet trading. Some activity was noted in Seaboard obligations but rail liens were barely changed.

A handful of issues in the curb market worked behind plus signs, including Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and Standard Oil of Kentucky.

Recaptured Chinese Air Bases Threat to Tokio

This map shows how Chinese land forces, in retaking the air bases of Chushien and Lishui, have placed United Nations planes within striking distance of Tokyo. If the Japanese can be driven back far enough to permit steady use of these fields, long-range American bombers will be able to strike at the Jap capital within seven hours. The industrial towns of Nagasaki and Osaka are even closer. (Central Press)

DIDN'T WANT TO SELL SCRAP, GOVERNMENT TAKES IT

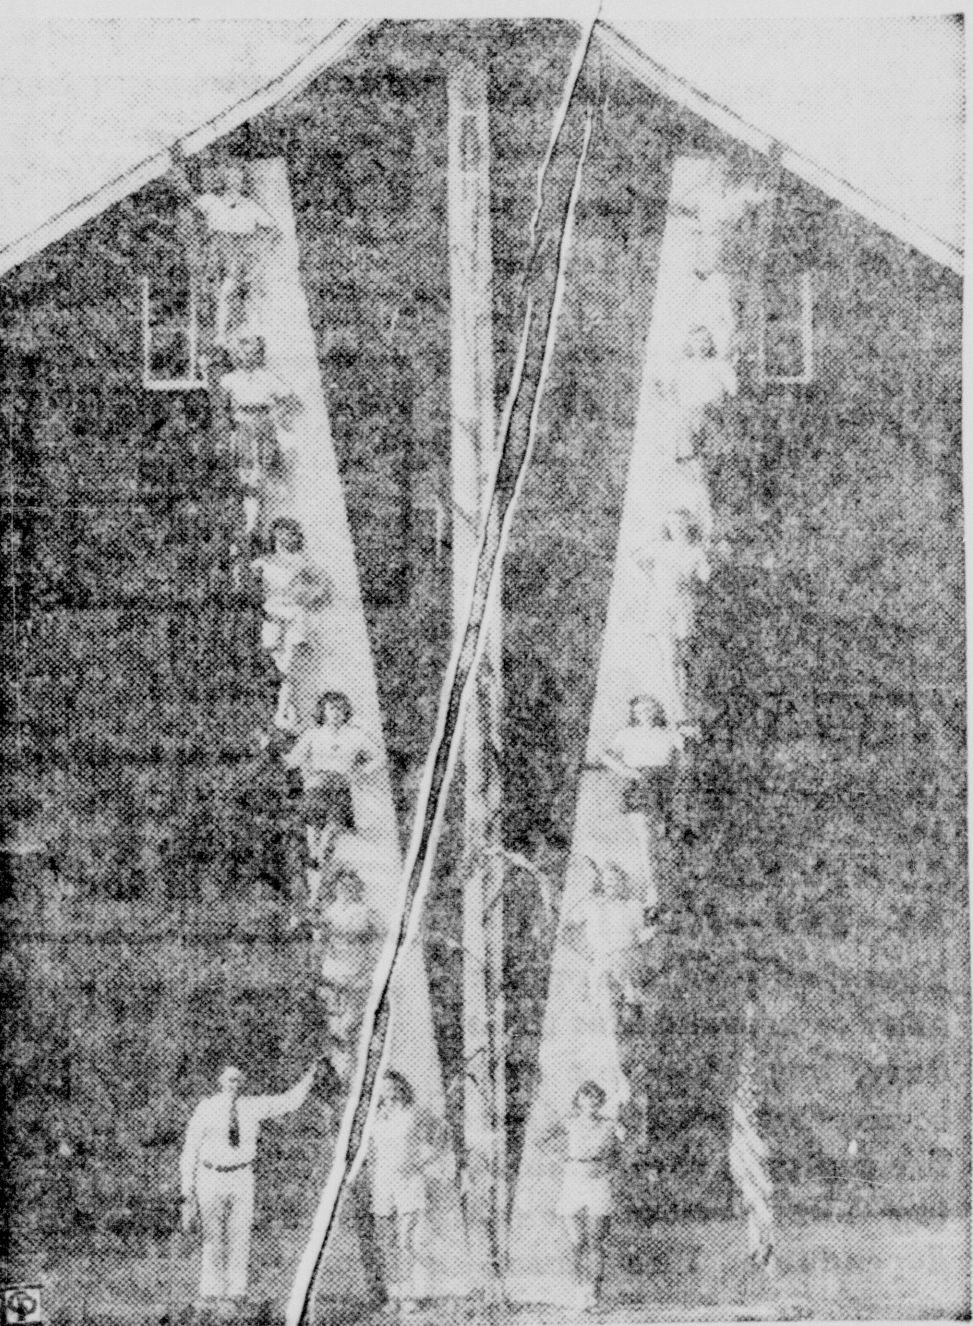

After months of haggling over more than 50 tons of scrap metal lying around the farm of Ora Benjamin at Walled Lake, Mich., near Detroit, the government moved in and seized the junk to convert it into war materials and munitions. Junk men are pictured above as they loaded the scrap into trucks while Benjamin, seated, right, placidly watched. He was given the requisition price of $12 a ton. The farmer did not make clear his reasons for being unwilling to release the materials. (Central Press Phonophoto)

Major Hamilton Awaits Release

Local Man In French Foreign Legion Is Slowly Recovering Health

HOPES TO BE HOME BY NEXT CHRISTMAS

Mrs. H. G. Goodman, of the Guard Apartments, East Falls street, has received an interesting message from her son, Major Edgar Hamilton who is recuperating from a recent serious illness at Arzew, Oran, Algeria, where he is stationed with the French Foreign Legion. In which he expresses the hope that he will be released from service in time to be back at his old home here by Christmas. The card was written August 14.

Major Hamilton has been in the French Foreign Legion since the end of World War One, and was enroute to his home here on leave, when Germany attacked France. He went back to his command, hoping to get into action against the old foe of World War days, only to be stalemated and be forced into inaction as France collapsed, leaving him stranded in Africa.

His mail passed through seven censors before it reached its destination. Although a post card, it contained quite a lengthy message, which in part said:

"Dear Mother: After three months convalescent leave, I am now on special leave, waiting for the War Department in Vichy to release me from the army. Hope to get away from Casa Blanca on the government boat at once. My health is not excellent and I see double at times.

"Military procedure is slow under present conditions. I had no idea it would take so long. I am putting in the time teaching English to some friends' children. Traveling is most unpleasant now. Buses use charcoal gas and are frequently broken down. There are only three trains a week. People pack in like sardines. I am listening to the R. C. A. 11 o'clock program. It is 4 a. m. here. I dined with the commandant of the naval detachment here last evening. His wife still has some coffee and I drank some for the first time in a long while. I was unable to sleep as a result. I am interested in the outcome of the battle for the Solomon Islands. The collapse of Russia would prolong the war a long time. I hope to be released in time to be home by Christmas."

Flashlights For Blackouts Must Meet Specifications

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Flashlights used during blackouts must be equipped with approved orange-red filters to conform with official regulations under a specification on standards of blackout light for portable lighting devices, announced today by the War Department.

The specification was prepared by the engineer board at Ft. Belvoir, Va., in cooperation with four other government agencies, including the War Production Board.

Exempted under the specification are railway inspectors lanterns, or special lighting apparatus employed in railroad operations which will be covered in another set of regulations which are now being prepared.

The flashlight specifications have been sent to manufacturers, and according to the engineer board, filters should be available upon production, at a low cost.

Petrillo Probe To Start September 17

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A Senate interstate commerce subcommittee has decided to begin hearings on September 17 on a resolution for investigation of the orders of President James C. Petrillo of the American Federation of Musicians, banning recorded music.

Sen. D. Worth Clark (D) Idaho, chairman of the subcommittee and author of the resolution, said Elmer Davis, director of the office of war information, probably will be the first witness and Chairman James F. Fly of the Federal communications commission will follow him.

Clark said hearings would be limited so that an early report be made to the full committee.

Garbage Bids To Get Consideration

City Health Director D. O. Davies today stated that as yet members of city council had not given full consideration to bids presented recently for the collection and disposal of garbage. However, the bids will receive full consideration, Davies promised.

Meanwhile the garbage situation here has improved daily according to Davies. He said that the five crews are working and following schedule. He thanked the citizens for their co-operation and said that within the next four or five days collection and disposal of garbage would be at normal.

Students May Be Recruited To Aid In Harvest Work

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—The farm labor shortage has become so acute that it may be well to close schools for a short time in order to permit students to aid in harvesting fruits and vegetables, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas asserted today. While educational standards should not be sacrificed, said Dr. Haas, the winning of the war is all-important. He therefore urged all school officials to aid in recruiting students for gathering in the harvest.

Haas suggested that schools may also be opened earlier in the day and classes dismissed in early afternoon, thus enabling older students to work in the fields after classes.

Students May Be Recruited To Aid In Harvest Work

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 12.—The farm labor shortage has become so acute that it may be well to close schools for a short time in order to permit students to aid in harvesting fruits and vegetables, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas asserted today. While educational standards should not be sacrificed, said Dr. Haas, the winning of the war is all-important. He therefore urged all school officials to aid in recruiting students for gathering in the harvest.

Haas suggested that schools may also be opened earlier in the day and classes dismissed in early afternoon, thus enabling older students to work in the fields after classes.
